How did your audience grow?

I paused my career for six months because I thought I wanted to be a mom and housewife. Unfortunately, my ex-husband only created frustration and made me super depressed. During that time, I started growing my socials—doing tons of livestreams and up to 62 TikToks a day! My house was full of clothes, lingerie, and sex toys—obviously, it was adult content. Collabs helped a lot, and of course, Vixen Media Group gave me a big push.

Where do you see yourself in 5 years?

Hopefully with a couple of kids! :))) But I don't want to quit. I love what I do—the sexual energy I share with my fans is pure gold. I'll probably keep doing OnlyFans, and I'd love to create a space for models where we talk about how to truly enjoy this job. A safe place with yoga, meditation, body love... because if you enjoy it, it becomes something really beautiful.

How did you decide to join the industry?

I joined in summer 2020. I was doing photo shoots in Barcelona when a friend recommended me for a casting. It was never really a dream—I didn't know much about the industry and honestly wasn't even curious. So it was actually beautiful to enter almost like a baby, discovering everything step by step, full of emotions. It's been a really sweet process of learning and developing myself.

What's it like working with Vixen Media Group?

Vixen is like family. I love working with Julia Grandi and her beautiful team. She listens to my fantasies and adapts to my style. We're treated like princesses. I come with my dog, we shoot in gorgeous locations... it feels like home. The US team is amazing too. They're all in my heart. I'm forever grateful for everything Vixen has given me.

What advice would you give to newcomers?

TAKE IT EASY!!! What you see on big stars took years—nobody is born a star. Be patient. Enjoy what you do. Have hobbies. Don't make your whole life just porn. Disconnect. And please—don't jump into a relationship. We all try to stop our career thinking a man will save us, but we are our own man. We don't need that. Just sugar daddies :)))

Spring has most definitely sprung, and hot on its heels comes our May issue. Once again, we bring you ultra-up-close and unabashedly personal with today's top stars — and serve up a curated blend of bonus goodies.

Lighting up this month's cover is none other than Violet Myers, who gives us a tour of her journey from East LA roots to becoming a multi-XMAs award-winning star. Indulge in her openness as she gets real about what's truly important to her, and what's next as she continues her meteoric rise.

As if that isn't enough, we also cozy up with former pro gamer Dan Dangler, who lays out her personal rules for living — which include aiming for the top and having as many dogs as possible! Meanwhile, streamer Cubbi Thompson shares her passion for roller coasters and her secret plan to dominate the industry. Euro sensation Ashby Winter enlightens us about her early days as a makeup artist and why it's so tricky to ship an XMA trophy to Hungary. Finally, Fav Girl/Girl Performer Leah Gotti shares deep reflections on bringing new life into the world and embracing change.

If that sounds juicy, turn the page and dive into the lives and dreams of our May stars!

THE WHOLE NEIGHBORHOOD?

VIOLET MYERS

Unfiltered, Unshaken, Unstoppable

BY CHRISTIAN CINTRON

Clad in futuristic, form-fitting black, Violet Myers looks like a character from "The Matrix" or the heroine of some "Blade Runner" reboot, trapped in a glowing virtual-reality maze.

Once the photo shoot is over, though, she is abruptly transformed. Just a few minutes later, emerging almost sheepishly from her dressing room, she is clad in comfy pink athletic wear and snacking on some Pirate's Booty.

Despite the stark contrast, both versions are authentically Myers. This woman clearly contains multitudes.

"I love Japanese street style!" she enthuses, becoming increasingly animated as she elaborates on her inspo for the session. "They really know how to dress and they don't care what people think about them. They wear whatever they think is badass.

"It's very important for me to be badass," she confides. "With a sexy 'I don't give a fuck' attitude."

Though sometimes a bit shy, Myers is nonetheless plainspoken and self-assured, with a soft power that shines through while she speaks. It's clear from the jump that she is both self-aware and comfortable with being exactly who she is.

"I live for me," she states simply. "Not for everyone else."

A woman is posing on a white, modern staircase. She is wearing black high-heeled shoes and black thigh-high stockings. Her legs are crossed at the ankles, and she is looking down. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

I'm good at being in charge. I'm not a follower. I'm an oldest child so I'm meant to be bossy. I want to get to a point in my career where I can be behind the camera and not just be a performer.

Expressing Herself — With Her Clothes On

That attitude is clearly working for her. With 2.4 million followers on Instagram, 1.5 million on TikTok, a YouTube channel with more than 400,000 subscribers and 92,000 followers for her video game streaming on Twitch, Myers has achieved massive success not only in the adult industry but on social media. Earlier this year, she was crowned 2025 XMA Premium Social Creator of the Year. She was also named Pornhub's Favorite Social Media Personality for 2023 and 2024, and is up for the title again this year.

"I'm a traditional content creator," she explains. "But in addition to porn, I also make content that's safe for work and highlights my personality. Social media is where I can express myself with my clothes on!"

Apparently, this has been a long time coming.

"I always dreamed of being a YouTuber but didn't know how to start," Myers admits. "I've been vlogging since high school."

Now, deftly leveraging her adult fan base and online visibility for maximum reach, Myers gets to showcase her offscreen identity and the things she loves — everything from unboxing and mukbang food-tasting videos to advice segments, "get ready with me" videos, comedic TikTok shorts and talking about her career, food and all things geek.

"Animated, nerdy, a lot of personality and quirky with a dark sense of humor," is how she summarizes her brand. If you wanted to cook up your own Violet Myers in a lab, she adds, you'd need "a big-booty Latina, nerdy, foodie — and throw in some shy."

"I like to show people I'm a normal person," she says. "I love sex but it's not something that defines me. I want to show that sex workers are just like anyone else."

Indeed, Myers seems not much different in person and one-on-one, except maybe a bit more soft-spoken than she is on her socials. Her humble and self-effacing nature has a way of drawing attention without overwhelming you with the thirsty "Pick me!" energy of so many influencers.

So what is the X factor that consistently brings people to her content and socials?

"I have a dry sense of humor," she observes. "It's not intentional, but every time I do anything with my sense of humor it goes viral. So that must mean I'm funny? I'm also on my phone a lot, so I like to be a real-life meme. That's how I'd describe my personality. I love memes. I'm a meme kid."

Just don't hold your breath waiting to see her in any TikTok dance challenges.

"I don't like dancing," Myers admits. "I can barely shake my ass!"

Myers' underlying silliness is evident in her fondness for videos of AI-generated cats navigating life's travails to the tune of an all-meowing version of the Billie Eilish hit "What Was I Made For?" She also stans for Shawty Bae.

"She is hilarious," Myers declares. "She's not even a comedian, but everything she does makes me laugh."

She also does not pull punches when sharing her least favorite social media trends.

"My biggest pet peeve is bad comedy skits with porn stars and comedians," she says. "I want to start a media company to help creators enter that space without it being so cringe."

Another big part of her social media programming: the culinary arts. A die-hard foodie, Myers loves doing cooking segments and tastings that highlight different cuisines.

"If I had to choose three foods to eat for the rest of my life: tacos, pizza and sushi," she declares. "If I could do anything I wanted, I'd be a pizza-ologist and travel the world sampling pizza. But I care too much about my health. I wish I could eat a fried chicken sandwich every day but I want to live a long, healthy life!"

Whenever I'm not working, I like to hang out with my family. They make me more humble and normal. You can definitely lose yourself in the industry if you don't have a great support system at home.

Queen of the Geeks

Of course, Myers is also very keyed into the internet and pop culture. Embracing her various fandoms and subcultures has helped her connect more deeply with her fans, bolstered her social media success, and doubtless also helps drive some of those new fans to her adult content — a win for everyone.

Even her name is entrenched in pop culture and revealing of her quirks and sensibilities. "Violet" was one of Hole's early and most recognizable songs.

"If you listen to that song, that was me in high school," Myers shares. "I was an emo kid. I even had an emo kid birthday party this year."

"Myers," meanwhile, has two different origins.

"'Halloween' is my favorite movie of all time, and I also love 'Shrek,'" she shares. "So it's Mike Myers and Michael Myers."

A self-admitted horror girly, Myers admits feeling some sympathy for her namesake.

"Michael Myers, I always felt so bad for him," she says. "I just think he's so cute, you know? Aside from the killing part! Growing up, I was very into horror. Then even more when I became a psychology major."

Actually appearing in a horror flick is near the top of Myers' bucket list.

"Being in a horror movie is one of my lifetime goals," she fangirls. "I want to play the first character to die. Those are always the best parts in the movie. Like in the 'Scream' movies."

Myers is also a big-time anime fan. Her favorites include "Mob Psycho 100," "Miss Kobayashi's Dragon Maid" and "JoJo's Bizarre Adventure."

"I love the fact that it's an emotional journey watching the character development," she says of JoJo. "Anime characters have this relatability. But it's also a great escape from reality. I don't relate to a lot of humans! So when I watch anime, I sometimes connect to the characters more."

Myers' love of anime has inspired some of her cosplaying, both at anime conventions and in her adult work.

"I love doing cosplay photo shoots and my fans love to see me as their favorite anime characters," she says. "But I only like to cosplay as characters from shows I've actually watched! I love when cosplayers put every single detail into their looks, I truly admire that."

"Even if they didn't watch the show!" she laughs.

So, which anime character best sums her up?

"I love Rem from 'Re:Zero,'" Myers says. "I've cosplayed her. She's a very shy character and very submissive, which is similar to my personality. Of course, she's a little demon character but I'm the opposite: I'm an angel."

A Head for Business, An Eye on What's Next

Being a bit submissive has not prevented Myers from firmly taking charge of her adult career. But then, Myers is nothing if not multifaceted.

"It's a business," she stresses. "I wanted to get into the industry. I saw that you have to have a brand. That's what a lot of people misunderstand about the industry. I'm successful because I take it seriously."

Myers is very much a businesswoman, with an eye toward producing and shooting her own porn.

"Some people want to show up on set and be told what to do, but I'm good at being in charge," she smiles. "I'm not a follower. I'm an oldest child so I'm meant to be bossy. I want to get to a point in my career where I can be behind the camera and not just be a performer. Similar to what Kayden Kross does. She sometimes jumps in front of the camera but she's also in charge."

Myers' practical business focus made her quick to create branded merch. What started with just T-shirts has since become an entire suite of products like apparel, mugs and prints, as well as brand collabs and her own adult products.

As her biggest career inspiration, Myers credits a certain reality starlet-turned-media icon.

"I love Kim Kardashian," she says. "She started from a sex tape and now she owns a billion-dollar clothing industry. I admire that."

Myers cites fellow adult stars as influences as well.

"I look up to Riley Reid and Lisa Ann because they're business-oriented," she affirms. "They didn't just perform; they did things outside the industry to make a name for themselves."

"You can build a legacy on more than just porn," she proclaims. "Maintaining a business mindset means building up my brand and using my name to profit and have longevity. I want to do something with it."

Increasing Latina Visibility

One thing Myers is hoping to do with her celebrity has less to do with profit than with something else that is important to her: representation.

"Representation means a lot to me," she says. "Growing up, I didn't have that. I obviously was surrounded by Latinos and Latinas, but outside of LA and in the media, I didn't find that. It was hard to find someone similar to who I am. I didn't have anyone to look up to."

Her hope is that her visibility on social media can help bring other Latina performers into the limelight, or at least provide a much-needed sense of feeling seen.

"Fame scares me a little bit, but that's why I wanted to do this: to bring visibility to the Latino community," she explains. "I could have just done porn and not cared about social media, but I want to be visible now so that people can see I'm very proud of my culture and my roots. I'm Mexican and Salvadoreña. I find inspiration every day from it."

Myers hopes to inspire other women to believe they, too, can do it.

"Obviously there are a lot of girls who look like me, but they're in the shadows," she says. "If there's some big-booby, big-titty Latina searching for someone like herself on Pornhub, I want her to believe she can do it and be on the same level as me, or be even bigger."

Myers' attitude of gratitude really shines through as she says this.

"Especially in an industry that's predominantly white, being in the position I'm in means a lot to me," she emphasizes. "Because it shows you can get into these positions and roles in life, when you believe in yourself."

Representation means a lot to me. Growing up, I didn't have that. I obviously was surrounded by Latinos and Latinas, but outside of LA and in the media, I didn't find that. It was hard to find someone similar to who I am. I didn't have anyone to look up to.

Family Values

In addition to increasing visibility for Latina performers in the industry, Myers' success has enabled her to do something else she always dreamed of.

"My favorite accomplishment has been buying my family a house," she reveals. "My wish was always to bring them to a bigger place. I still can't believe I did that."

Myers was born in East Los Angeles — and despite becoming one of today's most popular adult performers, that's where her heart remains.

"I rep LA so hard," she admits. "It's all I know."

She also remains very family-oriented, and credits the love and support of her family as one of the key ingredients that make the secret sauce of her success.

"A lot of people like to assume, because of what I do, that I don't have a family," she says. "But whenever I'm not working, I like to hang out with my family."

That strong connection helps Myers stay grounded and maintain a healthy relationship to her ambition.

"They make me more humble and normal," she says. "You can definitely lose yourself in the industry if you don't have a great support system at home."

Myers' mother in particular has been super supportive.

"My mom had me when she was a teenager," Myers shares. "All she's ever wanted for me is a long, happy life. She is very accepting."

"She was a single parent and my dad was in jail," she adds. "He was a cholo and due to the system, he wasn't around. He was a victim of the three-strikes law."

Despite her own reticent nature, the young Myers was always the first to jump in to protect others.

"I would be the one standing up to the bullies at school," she recalls. "If someone was being a bully to someone, I'd talk my shit and tell them to shut up."

That caretaking instinct still runs deep in Myers, who confesses, "I would love to be a humanitarian and help single mothers, and with prison reform, homelessness, immigration and equality."

She doesn't rule out someday starting her own family.

"Maybe," she reflects. "I have a motherly instinct. As I've gotten older and more successful, I'd like to pass something on to a nepo baby."

Myers also thinks of herself as very spiritual.

"I believe in God and Jesus," she affirms. "That's what keeps me going every day and keeps me down to earth — having that belief."

"I'm also Hispanic!" she laughs. "It's really common."

I like to show people
I'm a normal person.
I love sex but it's not something that defines me.
I want to show that sex workers are just like anyone else.

A Violet Vision of the Future

In addition to her aspirations on the other side of the camera, Myers' other future ambitions are as varied as her current interests and projects.

"Maybe a DJ set would be cute," she ponders. "I'd love to do a Ted Talk. I'd love to write a book about my career and do a documentary. My life is very interesting!"

As for what she's currently working on, the business maven has quite a few projects in the pipeline.

"I'm working on a manga, and a selfie book — a look into my life in adult."

Additionally, she has more branded merch on the way. Notably, while there is already a Violet Myers Fleshlight, she is collaborating with the creators of that popular self-stimulator to target another sector of the pleasure market.

"We're creating dildos!" she enthuses.

"I know: a female porn star creating dildos," she laughs. "But I hear a bunch of complaints and I want to try and give fans what they really want."

That's another recurring theme for Myers: appreciation for the people who helped her get to where she is today.

"I love my fans," she states simply. "I look forward to seeing them when conventions happen. I love being able to physically hug them and talk to them in person — and thank them for all their support in getting me to this position. Because they really believed in me."

When it comes to describing Violet Myers, "multifaceted" turns out to be a serious understatement. She's a direct badass who shoots from the hip, but also someone who truly loves and appreciates other people for doing what they do. Her consistency and candor have earned her plenty of internet street cred, while her business savvy has enabled her to turn being herself and relishing all the things she loves into massive success — all while remaining the approachable, humble and shy person she has always been underneath.

As she finishes our interview and walks away, she glances down at her now-depleted bag of Pirate's Booty.

"I guess I'm eating ass!" she cracks cheekily.

She gives a knowing wink that sums up her quirky sense of humor, and then she's off. X3

Dan Dangler

Making It on Her Own Terms

BY RICK THOMAS

MAY 2025 X3 MAGAZINE / 39

Dan Dangler lives in a zoo. Okay, maybe that's a bit of an exaggeration. But only a bit. "I have nine dogs right now," she announces cheerily. "Nine!"

They're not all small either, ranging from a Chihuahua up to a 90-pound Great Pyrenees. Luckily, she has a huge backyard.

"Sometimes they fight, and I have to break them up," she admits. "Like yesterday, there was a fight over a bone, and my finger got in the way. But it's just a little puncture wound, it'll be fine in a couple of days. It's all part of owning a pack. Especially a pack that didn't choose to be together. I kind forced them to be together."

Animals have always been a major part of Dangler's life.

"I always begged my parents for more animals," she recalls. "I was always the one to initiate getting more of them. We went from being just a regular one-dog family, to having three dogs."

"I moved out eventually, and now I have my nine," she laughs.

Taking care of them definitely provides some of the impetus for all the hard work Dangler puts into her adult career.

"When I'm 35, I want to leave the industry and open up an animal sanctuary," she reveals. "I'm thinking down in Florida somewhere. But I'm still a lot of years from being 35."

I set my standards really high. If it wasn't something that was 'big,' then I wasn't going to do it. I only wanted to work with the top people. By doing that, I went right to the top myself.

I've done my last pro shoot.
I'm only going to be doing OnlyFans from now on ... The more you're out there making your naked body accessible for free, the more people are going to look at it for free first, without looking at the other content I'm making.

Leaving the 'Warzone'

Of course, at the rate she's going, Dangler will probably have the option of retiring as early as she pleases. The Detroit native has gone from 0-60 in record time. Just a few years ago, she was a professional gamer with a Twitch stream. But once she made the decision to pivot to the adult industry, she swiftly rocketed to the top.

"I spent most of my career playing Call of Duty: Warzone," she explains. "I was a team captain for the first Warzone World Series, and one of the top female gamers at the time."

But even during her rise through the video game world, Dangler could see its limits. The competitive gaming landscape changes constantly, and unless a player wants to keep learning and mastering new games year after year, it's difficult to stay at the top of the pyramid.

"I knew that I couldn't play the same video game forever," she says. "The same video game never lasts forever. I knew it was going to die eventually. So I started working some light adult content into my streams. I would do hot-tub and bikini streaming during my Twitch streams, which eventually led to me starting an OnlyFans."

Dangler discovered that she enjoyed making the transition to adult.

"It was an evolution," she says. "But I was totally cool with it. I just loved that I could be my own boss. I'm a very motivated person. I run my own business and everything I do in adult is on my own terms."

Soon enough, she found herself creating content with some of the biggest names in the game — megastars like Angela White, Isiah Maxwell and Zac Wild, among others.

"I set my standards really high," she affirms. "If it wasn't something that was 'big,' then I wasn't going to do it. I only wanted to work with the top people."

"By doing that, I went right to the top myself," she continues. "My first studio shoot was with Brazzers, with Manuel Ferrara. They did me up all nice and fancy, and it was really nice to be pampered like that right from the start."

Rebellion and Freedom

One thing comes across loud and clear when speaking with Dangler: She's not shy about discussing any topic. Whether it's her relationship with her family or her feelings about the adult industry, she's an open book.

Describing what it was like for her growing up, for example, she doesn't veer away from discussing friction with her parents.

"My whole life, I was always told, 'You can't do this,' or 'You can't wear that,'" she says. "It was just constant putdowns."

Her transition from gaming to adult further strained her relationship with her parents, to the point where they're now estranged.

"Every time I went toward something new, my mom would roll her eyes," she recalls. "First it was bikini streaming, and she would roll her eyes. Then it was modeling, and again she'd roll her eyes. I never even wore a bikini in front of her when I was a kid, because it would make her so uncomfortable."

"My parents are very religious," she adds. "They believe that if you show your body, you're a sinner — and also that you must be on drugs."

Drugs are another topic that Dangler doesn't avoid.

"I'm a huge pothead," she admits. "There's nothing in the world I like more than to just relax and smoke some weed and hang out with my dogs. You know how people like to go to the bar and have drinks and hang out with their friends? Well, my favorite thing is to stay home and smoke weed and hang out with my dogs."

"Then I go hiking," she adds. "I'm based out of LA so there are a lot of good hiking spots, and I like to stay active."

Dangler also cops to another fun hobby.

"I have a lot of conspiracy theories!" she confides. "Like, for one, 75% of me doesn't believe in dinosaurs."

This is a statement that obviously needs to be elaborated on.

"I've just never met anyone who's ever dug up a dinosaur," she explains earnestly. "No friend of mine, no one I've ever known, has ever dug one up. I just can't imagine that the T. rex ever existed, and they know what it looked like and what it sounded like. I'm just kind of suspicious about it."

What about JFK?

"Well, it already came out that it was the CIA," she pronounces, referencing the Trump administration's recent declassification of the agency's Kennedy files. "I don't know if it was Oswald, but it was definitely the CIA somewhere, because he was just calling to defund them."

'Nobody else should be in charge of your sex life and your success.'

Dangler is also completely forthright about what she sees as the future of the industry.

"It's all going to be OnlyFans," she declares. "Because why would someone subscribe to a platform that is just producing the same content over and over again? They can't talk to the performers, they can't request what they want."

For Dangler, this represents a positive development for the industry.

"It's obviously giving women more power," she says. "I'm working only when I want to. Women need to be their own bosses in this industry. I had a great agent who would just ask me, 'Hey, do you want this? No? Okay, cool.' Nobody else should be in charge of your sex life and your success."

That's when Dangler drops a bombshell.

"I've done my last pro shoot," she says. "I'm only going to be doing OnlyFans from now on."

She elaborates on why she's getting out.

"I think working for the studios hurts my career, and it hurts my content creation," she says. "The more you're out there making your naked body accessible for free, the more people are going to look at it for free first, without looking at the other content I'm making."

Dangler spends hours every day cultivating her OnlyFans following and interacting with her fans.

"Social media is my bread and butter," she says. "I have a really good relationship with my fans. I'm posting, on my main account, five times a day at least. And there's a lot of back and forth with my fans, a lot of interaction."

When asked if there is anything that could coax her back in front of the camera for a studio, she goes right for the jugular.

"Money," she laughs. "A lot of money. I'm a money girl."

Our conversation works its way back to conspiracy theories, including some she doesn't buy. Dangler doesn't believe that the Illuminati are controlling the world, for instance. She also has a strong opinion on a popular recent 'joke' conspiracy theory: that birds aren't real, but are actually all spy drones operated by the government.

"Birds are definitely real!" she exclaims. "I've rescued birds that have been injured, and rehabilitated them. So unless they have really complicated bird drones with really intricate mechanical bodies and blood packs and stuff, then they definitely do exist."

Cubbi Thompson

Pushing Limits
and Loving It

BY JEFF DANA

How do you relax after a hard day's work? A) Sprawl on the couch, B) Soak in the tub, or C) Head straight for the nearest theme park and jump on the roller coaster.

If you answered "C," you just might be Creator of the Year and self-confessed adrenaline junkie Cubbi Thompson.

"I'm a workaholic, so I'm working nonstop," Thompson explains. "But I have passes to all of the theme parks, so I'm there any chance I get."

That includes grabbing a quick ride after a long day on set, if shooting wraps early enough. Her favorite? The Jurassic World VelociCoaster at the Universal Orlando Resort.

"That's a really good roller coaster," Thompson gushes. "It's hardcore."

As one of the adult industry's top performers, it's fair to say that Thompson knows a thing or two about "hardcore." A couple of months ago, someone asked her if she'd rather jump out of a plane or swim in a cage surrounded by sharks. That's when she realized that she was down to do both.

"It's a new self-discovery of mine," she admits. "I like to test the limits a little bit."

A Lot of Cornfields

While she may not have swum with sharks just yet, Thompson already sports some impressive shark tattoos — her favorite animal. At home, though, her menagerie is a bit more conventional. Her dog Champ, a pit bull-mastiff mix, serves as her loyal protector. She also has a lizard and a cat.

"It's a little bit of a party over here," she jokes.

These days, "over here" is St. Louis, where Thompson has lived for the last five years. Though she was born in South Carolina and grew up on the East Coast, she quite enjoys St. Louis, where she has already paid off her home.

"We have really good food here," she reports. "There are a lot of cute little restaurants in the city. There's this really good Thai place nearby, and I love a good hibachi restaurant. I'm such a foodie. I have a photo album on my phone that's just selfies of me and burritos!"

Thompson is easily revved up on the topic of food — and decidedly opinionated on the subject of the best ice cream flavors.

"This might be kind of weird, but I'm going to say pistachio," she declares. "It's so underrated, and I don't know why! Why is it always chocolate, vanilla or strawberry? That's not a broad enough flavor profile to truly understand a person. I also like butter pecan, which some people say is an 'old person' ice cream, but I stand behind it."

She a bit more torn, however, when it comes to the age-old "cup or cone" debate.

"If it's a waffle cone, then I've got to say 'cone,'" she reflects. "But if it's a sugar cone, then I'll go with 'cup.'"

Thompson especially looks forward to grabbing tacos when she's in Los Angeles, where she has been spending two weeks per month "hustling and grinding" thanks to studio shoots.

During those LA visits, Thompson typically hangs out with a mix of veteran performers like Jennifer White and rising stars like Little Puck, as well as some of her other colleagues — arguably the unsung heroes of adult entertainment.

"Everybody talks about the performers," she observes. "And I love the performers — they're amazing, talented, driven. But crew members are so fun. They work together every day, so they have that bond and that understanding with each other. Shoutout to the crew members!"

Thompson says she also appreciates the weather in Los Angeles, and plans to take advantage of it this summer.

"It gets warm here in St. Louis, but it's not anything too crazy," she notes. "There's not really a beach, just a lot of cornfields, so I'm excited to enjoy a tropical summer with palm trees and hot weather. I know a lot of people complain about the heat, but I love it."

In the future, Thompson sees herself moving to California, even if it's just temporarily or for part of the year.

"There are a lot of work opportunities and business opportunities there, and networking events," she affirms. "So it'd be nice to have a place out there, just so I wouldn't have to travel so much every month."

'Let's see what life's about.'

Fondness for burritos and ice cream notwithstanding, food is by no means Thompson's only passion. For one thing, she's developed an intense love for running.

"It fulfills something in me that's so hard to explain to somebody who isn't a runner and doesn't experience that runner's high," she says. "But for me, I just get into a flow state while running, and I can just go for hours. It's the best."

"I love running to certain songs that match my running pace," she elaborates. "My Spotify playlist is literally all over the place, from Mozart to Slipknot to Sabrina Carpenter. But when my foot touches the ground in rhythm with the music, it makes me feel like a superhero."

"I highly recommend it," she enthuses. "Even if you don't like running, just try it, because it makes it so much fun."

A self-described night owl, Thompson says she likes late-night runs best of all.

"I feel most motivated and most creative at 2 a.m., weirdly enough," she shares. "That's also when I get a lot of my video ideas."

One of her other workout habits is more reflective of another important aspect of Thompson: her unabashedly geeky side.

"I'm such an open book online that my fans know I play with lightsabers," she says. "But they probably don't know how often I play with lightsabers! Lightsaber swinging exercises are a daily routine for me. It's not just a thing I do on May 4th."

Nor is "Star Wars" the only franchise that Thompson counts herself a fan of. She's also a huge James Bond fan.

"I know the old ones are classics, like 'Goldfinger,' but you also can't beat the new ones," she insists. "'Skyfall' is my absolute favorite. It's a masterpiece. The visuals are incredible, and the story is so well done. I was on the edge of my seat the entire time."

Like the cup/cone dilemma, Thompson admits that she feels torn about whether she'd rather play a Bond girl or a Bond villain.

"Being a Bond girl is the ultimate," she finally acknowledges. "It would be an honor."

Though Thompson describes herself as a movie fan, she only recently became one, as she grew up "very sheltered."

"I wasn't really allowed to watch too many movies or shows or anything like that," she recalls. "So I've really enjoyed, in my adulthood, being able to see all these things that I missed. Obviously, I'm a huge 'Star Wars' fan and a huge 'Harry Potter' fan too, but I didn't see those until my 20s. I'm having a lot of fun catching up on movies. My friends are like, 'What do you mean you just saw 'The Breakfast Club' last week?'"

"I think that's why, now that I'm an adult, I'm like, 'All right, let's see what life's about.'"

Thompson may have a lot of classics to catch up with, but for now, the only one curling up next to her on the couch is Champ. The starlet is currently single — though she's been known to fly herself across the country for the right dinner date.

Asked who usually picks up the tab for that, she admits that some guys do and some don't. But just because a guy pays for a plane ticket or a nice meal doesn't mean he'll have Thompson eating out of the palm of his hand, as she isn't easily impressed.

What impresses Thompson most in a potential partner is their ability to listen.

"There was this one guy who did something that really made him stand out," she recalls. "The first time we ever talked, he asked me, 'What's something you've always wanted to do,' and I told him I'd never been on a horse before. Then for our first date, he took me horseback riding. I had forgotten I even mentioned it, but he remembered. It was very smooth. I was like, 'Okay, I see you.'"

Thompson feels no pressure to settle down just yet.

"I'm living kind of carefree right now — working and traveling," she says. "While I'm in my 20s, I'm going to explore and do some fun things."

Dreaming Big

Since Thompson has only been working with studios for the past couple of years, she's still meeting everyone in the business.

"Being new, it's really exciting seeing how different directors and their crews work," she says. "Ricky Greenwood is outstanding and one of the best directors by far. His vision for some of his films is just amazing. He just has such a great eye. I was impressed watching him work."

She also recently shot a scene with Angela White and Keiran Lee. While Lee has been a friend for quite some time, meeting White was a new experience.

"She's definitely somebody whom I look up to," says Thompson. "She's such an icon in this industry. It was really nice just talking with her and picking her brain a little bit to get her insight. It was just really fun to be able to be like, 'Okay, let's talk, girl! Give me some tips. Give me some pointers.'"

One lesson Thompson has learned is that she doesn't like to be pigeonholed — something she figured out after taking certain gigs and getting labeled as a "mom" or "stepmom" type.

"People warned me not to accept those kinds of jobs, and I shrugged it off, but yeah, I learned my lesson," she says, though she doesn't tend to waste much energy on regrets.

"I'm one of those annoying people who like to see everything as a learning experience," she laughs. "I wouldn't be who I was today if I didn't go through certain stuff."

This year, Thompson says, her personal goal is to make sure every single video she shoots feels like the best video she's ever put out.

"For my personal content, I want to focus more on storytelling and role-playing, and building sets that go with the theme of each video," she explains. "I already make those kinds of videos for holidays and special events, but I want that to be my daily standard, so I'm not just releasing a normal video you can get anywhere."

Thompson hasn't given much thought to breaking into the mainstream entertainment business, though she loves the acting part of her job.

"I love having a long script or doing a long role-play where I have to be a specific character for an extended period," she says. "I find it really fun, so I'd love to do more of that. I want to really step up my acting, not just for my own content and storytelling, but for studio work as well."

Thompson says she sees herself working in the adult business for a long time, and reveals that she already has a long-term plan for her career.

"I absolutely love this industry and this crazy community, and I would love to be a permanent part of it," she affirms. "When Brazzers first contacted me, they were like, 'Do you want to just get in and out of this industry or do you want to be here and shoot for a while?' I don't really want to do either — I want to take over and make my own little fun space in this industry, so that is my plan."

"I'd first like to solidify somewhat of a space for myself, and then in five to 10 years, I can step behind the camera and maybe direct, or be in charge of some videos," she says. "I'm a pretty creative person, but I think having experience in front of the camera first will help me behind the camera later."

If she could fly anywhere in the world to shoot a scene, Thompson says, she'd travel to the Maldives.

"There's an underwater hotel room there where you can see fish and coral and everything," she marvels. "That would be my dream location. I just think it would be so fun and so beautiful. That room is like $50,000 a night or something crazy, so it's not attainable at all. But we're dreaming big over here!"

Wherever her career takes her, she says, the most important thing for her is originality.

"I don't want to ever be a carbon copy of someone else, or 'the next so-and-so,'" she says. "I'm just Cubbi, and I always want to make sure I stay true to myself."

In the end, that may be the greatest adrenaline rush of all. X3

Ashby Winter

Knows Where She Belongs

BY O.M. ABERNATHY

When Ashby Winter flew to Portugal and arrived on her first porn set, she was amazed by the high production values and bustling professionalism. Of course, it helped that she had lucked into making her adult debut with one of the industry's biggest name brands: Vixen.

"My first scene was quite challenging for someone who had just entered the industry," she recalls. "It was a boy/girl/girl scene, where you have to focus on two people at once — something I had never experienced before. I was very nervous."

Fortunately, some words of encouragement from award-winning director Julia Grandi inspired confidence in her.

"That really helped," says Winter. "Everything went great, and I realized adult was where I belonged."

'Show the audience what's inside you'

That realization was the culmination of a journey that began in Winter's hometown of Yekaterinburg, Russia.

"Everybody talks about work all the time!" is how she laughingly describes the city, which — due to its sizeable population and booming economy — has been dubbed Russia's "third capital."

There, Winter grew up pirouetting onstage as a classical and ballet dancer. She got her first taste of traveling while touring Russian cities like Moscow, Sochi and Kazan as part of a dance ensemble.

This was also her first experience as a performer. In front of audiences, Winter says, her heart would beat wildly.

"It was both terrifying and thrilling at the same time," she remembers. "Onstage, you're emotionally naked. You show the audience what's inside you through your movements."

She overcame that sense of vulnerability, she says, by channeling all her energy into her performance, transferring it to the crowd and feasting on the energy audience members offered back.

Later, she discovered hip-hop dancing, but her first real career ambition was to become a makeup artist. Her working-class parents, however, tried to steer her in a different direction.

"My mother told me makeup artistry could be my side job or a hobby, but not a serious profession," Winter says.

Trying to accommodate her family's wishes, Winter studied social security law — a safer, more secure job, according to her mom. Winter did find the field interesting, and worked in a law office as part of her education. She also considered medical school.

Still, she could not shake her desire to pursue a career in beauty. She registered for cosmetology classes, and began doing makeup for models free of charge to gain experience. It wasn't long before she began attracting paying clients who returned for her services again and again. Soon she was supporting herself as a makeup artist and living on her own.

"See, mom?" Winter told her mother. "This can be serious."

Turning Crisis Into Opportunity

She supplemented her income with part-time glamour modeling, since she was too petite to be a runway model — as a modeling school representative had informed her in no uncertain terms. But neither her makeup nor modeling gigs paid as well as she had hoped. When a modeling agency offered her a shoot in India, she had to turn it down because the rate was so low.

She grew restless and dissatisfied, especially when she found herself relying on a boyfriend for financial support.

"It felt as if my identity disappeared," Winter says. "I was losing myself and living someone else's life."

For fun, she took up exotic pole dancing, which she says helped her "feel more like a woman." She considered stripping, but then a conversation with a friend who was working as an adult performer set her on a new course.

Her friend spoke positively about the adult industry, inspiring Winter to begin exploring the idea as an option. She'd never been very interested in adult content personally, preferring erotic books and her own fantasies. But when she sent photos of herself to a booking agent in 2023, she immediately scored an offer from Vixen.

The studio offered rates that she found suitable, and she loved the idea of integrating travel into her professional life.

"I don't like being tied to one place," she says. "I'm very spontaneous and I live for that. I want to truly experience how people live in different countries, what hidden challenges there are, what circumstances I might face while living in one place or another. I want to feel the mentality of people."

While visa issues delayed her debut by two months, Winter contemplated what she was planning, wanting to be certain about the transition. She was concerned about people judging her, but was also self-aware enough to know that anytime she pursues — well, anything — she goes 100% all-in.

After meditating at length on pursuing a career in adult, she felt confident and convinced enough to give it a go. Her visa finally approved, she headed for Portugal.

And the Winner Is...

After her debut experience, Winter began shooting scenes with WowGirls, Hentaied and other European-based studios. She continued her relationship with Vixen, however, and is now a contract star with the studio. She says she especially appreciates the way Vixen presents women: always dressing them nicely with top-notch makeup jobs, something she knows a thing or two about.

She also likes the storylines and the chance to fine-tune her acting chops. Her background in dance and modeling gave her a leg up in this regard, teaching her to be expressive and "loose," as she puts it. When she gets a script, she reads it eagerly, looking forward to figuring out how to portray her character.

"It's almost like living inside another person," she says of acting. "I love feeling a different kind of energy."

That level of passion and attention to detail certainly didn't hurt her burgeoning career. She continued to gain momentum, ultimately earning an XMA Europa award as 2024's Best New Performer.

I would love to shoot in America. It's a new level for me, a bigger scale. America is the icon of the adult industry.

Winter says she was completely shocked to be recognized with such a prestigious honor after her first year in the business. She wasn't even sure that she'd shot enough scenes to qualify.

Winning the award meant so much to her, in fact, that she went through a three-month odyssey to get her hands on the actual XMA Europa trophy. She had to deal with FedEx customer service agents and Hungarian customs officials, all while maintaining a busy travel schedule. Finally, after filling out loads of paperwork, disputing a customs fee and — of course — missing the FedEx delivery guy, Winter finally held her XMA award in her hands after her manager picked it up at a FedEx warehouse.

Hopes and Dreams

Today, Winter makes her home in Europe's adult industry capital of Budapest. She says she adores her colleagues in the adult industry.

"They're all from different backgrounds and all different people," she says. "They're also very nice and down to earth."

Nesting in Budapest also allows her to travel more easily to shoots across the continent, an important perk since she is increasingly in demand.

The next location to which she hopes to travel? Los Angeles.

"As a child, I watched many videos about America and dreamed of going there," she says. "I think there are so many opportunities to express yourself as a person. Everything there is so big and ambitious. I would love to shoot in America. It's a new level for me, a bigger scale. America is the icon of the adult industry."

In order to expand her acting opportunities stateside, Winter has been working on her English. She's also set a number of other goals for herself. Asked what she'd like to achieve in the industry, she jokes, "To become a hot MILF!" But her more "serious" answer is: She hopes to be named a Vixen Angel — and one day, maybe even XMA Female Performer of the Year.

In her admittedly scant free time, Winter paints and draws, primarily landscapes.

"They say people have hidden talents that reveal themselves over time," she reflects. "I believe this is mine. Each painting carries its own mood. It can be a cry from the soul or a feeling of freedom and happiness. I experience different emotions while painting, and I try to finish each piece as soon as possible so I don't lose the emotion I felt when I started."

Winter says she "lives for" painting and aspires to turn her art into something more than a hobby.

"I want to give people the chance to feel my paintings, get closer to me and connect with my view of the world," she affirms.

In the meantime, admirers of her other talents will soon be afforded another chance to get closer to Ashby Winter in a new Hentaied scene that she just shot, as well as more upcoming Vixen releases. She reports to set for video shoots a couple of times per month, in various European countries, and has also returned to modeling.

Everything is falling into place, on her own terms.

"Life is full of trial and error," she observes. "But that's the whole point: to live the way you want to. I want to live it brightly and memorably, leaving a mark behind."

Bella Spark, Kelly Collins Star in VMG Feature 'Bang and Burn'

Bella Spark and Kelly Collins star with Vixen Media Group exclusive Jason Luv in the cross-site spy feature "Bang and Burn."

Directed by Julia Grandi and set in the Alps, the scene "traces Bella's unexpected path into the world of espionage," the synopsis reveals. "How did an innocent girl end up deep undercover? With a persuasive pair like Kelly Collins and Jason Luv, the answer becomes clear. This concluding chapter explores Bella's origin story while bringing the high-stakes 'Bang and Burn' series to a powerful close."

Grandi enthused about the shoot.

"Shooting the finale in the Alps with Jason, Kelly, and Bella was a great experience," she said. "The helicopter ride to the top of the mountain was a real adventure. We knew a snowstorm was coming, and the pilots had to leave earlier than planned. We only had one chance to get the shot, but everyone stayed calm and professional. I'm really proud of the cast and crew, and I know fans are going to love how it turned out."

"Bang and Burn" is streaming on VixenPlus.

Leah Gotti

Strength, Grace and New Beginnings

BY NOELLE PERDUE

Pregnant and wary of the Los Angeles weather, Leah Gotti wasn't planning on attending the XMA's this past January — but her agent at Invision urged her to reconsider. Gotti was up for Fav Girl/Girl Performer, and with nearly 10 years of genre-defining scenes behind her and a massive following of devoted fans, she undeniably had a chance at the win.

Gotti had been nominated for an XMA before, but this one felt different. While wrestling with her decision not to attend the awards ceremony, she couldn't help but play over the scenarios in her head.

"What if I win and I'm not there?"

The risk of regret felt too high, so she boarded a flight the very day of the XMA's, arriving in Los Angeles at 6:30 in the evening. After landing, she went straight to the convention center without even pausing to drop off her things or freshen up after her flight.

Her "funny feeling" came to fruition mere hours later, when Gotti was crowned XMA Fav Girl/Girl Performer, golden trophy in hand, having beaten out 14 other popular creators for the title.

"I have won a couple of awards before, but I've never received an actual trophy," she recalls. "So I'm just going to count that as my first real win."

The fact that this was a fan-voted category, she adds, made it feel extra special.

"It feels really cool to know that my fans and people chose me as their favorite," Gotti says. "Especially because I only shoot girl/girl. I really try to make sure every scene that I'm in is organic, sexy, passionate and that people will like it. That I enjoy myself and the person I'm working with enjoys it. So to be recognized for that was really cool."

An Unexpected Opportunity

While her XMA victory might have felt like the first "real" win of her career,

Gotti quite literally began her career as a winner.

Before becoming a girl/girl superstar, Gotti was working at a hotel club in Dallas, selling tickets and setting the mood while attending college nearby.

"The owner of the hotel asked me and my best friend if we would host an after-party for Exxxotica," she says. "I really had no idea what Exxxotica was, but we dressed all cute."

Gotti wore a cheeky "sexy referee" outfit to attend her first adult industry event, strictly as an attendee and to hand out flyers promoting her own event later.

If you're familiar with the Exxxotica Expo, you'll know one of the most popular events is the Miss Exxxotica competition, where adult performers and others compete for the title and a classically oversized $1,000 check.

As a joke, a couple of women entered Gotti and her friends in the competition. Much to the surprise of her peers — though less surprising to us in retrospect — she wound up qualifying round after round, and eventually found herself onstage getting crowned Miss Exxxotica in front of hundreds of cheering onlookers.

"I ended up winning!" she remembers. "Oh my God. The entire thing."

It was surreal: a Dallas college student beating out dozens of seasoned adult performers and other attendees, crowd-surfing on a sea of newly-minted adoring fans. "After that, I was hosting the parties and stuff, and people were coming up to me and asking me if I did porn," Gotti says. "I was like, 'No, I'm just in school!' At that time, I had never even been a stripper or anything like that."

Nevertheless, the adult industry red carpet had been laid out for Gotti to walk down, if she chose to, and after being connected to the right people, her career naturally took off.

"Everything snowballed from there," she explains. "It was crazy."

A woman is seated on a stage, her back to the camera. She is wearing a vibrant red dress. The background consists of deep red, vertically pleated curtains. The lighting is warm and focused on the woman, creating a dramatic atmosphere. The overall scene suggests a performance or a candid moment during a show.

My fans message me a lot of encouraging things. They're constantly checking on me, asking me how I'm feeling and telling me how beautiful I am — all the things that you want to hear when you're creating a baby.

Family Matters

Since then, Gotti has been on a nonstop fast-track train to adult industry superstardom, but that doesn't mean she hasn't made time to live a rich life outside of the industry. Gotti has also gotten married, and is currently looking forward to welcoming her third baby with her husband.

Despite her onstage and online confidence, Gotti is susceptible to the same complicated emotions around pregnancy and change as any other woman planning on expanding her family.

"It's a lot of self-reflection," she says. "When you first find out, you always go through those feelings of 'Am I going to be able to do this? I'm going to have to save, I'm going to have to cut back on spending. Am I prepared for this? Is this the right time? All of those thoughts."

Working in the adult industry comes with its own challenges, as Gotti has to balance the normal duties of a wife and mom while showing up for her fans and maintaining the aesthetic on which she's built a brand.

"I start to doubt myself sometimes," she admits. "Like, what if I fall off? I have to take care of my body. I need to make sure I'm not overeating, but at the same time I have to nourish my child."

Nor is every challenge physical. Gotti also has to maintain the mental energy required by having a deeply social job, and dealing with people's opinions and expectations every day online. She describes the importance of protecting her mental well-being while pregnant, shielding herself and her baby not only from physical risks, but also emotional ones.

"I cut things out of my life, like going online as much," she confides. "I block anyone who has anything negative to say, because my energy is so special."

For Gotti, looking out for herself and her family also means shifting the style of content she's willing to shoot and put out in the world during her pregnancy.

"I tell it to all my fans just straight up: I don't share my sexual energy with anyone else other than my husband during this time," she affirms. "I'm protecting myself from a lot of things, I'm very vulnerable right now. My child is vulnerable. This time is so special, I'll never get it back — you're only pregnant with that baby for one time."

This involves setting strict boundaries for herself and those around her.

"I don't shoot any solo masturbation," she says. "I don't shoot any sex stuff. I don't do any ratings or JOIs or anything like that while I'm visibly pregnant. I've always wanted to protect my babies as much as possible, and a lot of times when mothers in our field of work, we get judged by a lot of people. So I have hard nos."

Embracing Change

Gotti's star has hardly disappeared, of course. She is still very much active on her pages, just producing a different type of content while in such a demanding physical and emotional transition. For now, it's more about the sensual side of things than the explicitly sexual.

"I'll shoot beautiful photos," she explains. "I'll shoot nice videos showing off my body and empowering myself in that way. But it's definitely a lot different than when I'm not creating a baby."

While this change might leave some porn consumers frustrated, Gotti has amassed a fan base of supportive people eager to be with her every step of the way.

"My fans message me a lot of encouraging things," she notes. "They're constantly checking on me, asking me how I'm feeling and telling me how beautiful I am — all the things that you want to hear when you're creating a baby."

Gotti says pregnancy has also been transformative for her in terms of loving herself and accepting natural aging and evolution.

"I think the biggest thing that I've had to work on is knowing and accepting that my body is going to change," she reflects. "It's not going to look how I looked when I was 18, and that's okay."

"I'm learning to love what it is and appreciate it," she adds. "Making sure that I have good self-talk. Of course, I'm going to have bad days where I might look at myself and be like, 'Ugh!' But I always just try to redirect those thoughts, not allowing them to stay for too long and giving myself grace in those areas."

Overall, Gotti reveals, pregnancy has improved her relationship with her body and sexuality.

"After my first baby, I really felt sexier," she says. "I had bigger boobs, my ass was bigger. My hips were a little bit more curvy. I think that with each baby, I feel hotter and hotter."

In addition to the support she gets from her fans, Gotti stresses how meaningful it is to experience parenthood with a devoted partner. She credits her husband for being her support system while she juggles so many roles, responsibilities and expectations.

"He's so amazing," she gushes. "I don't ever have to do the dishes. I don't ever have to do the laundry. We are both really big on acts of service for each other, showing up for each other and reprioritizing things to help one another. If I want something, all I have to do is tell him."

"The same goes for him," she adds. "If he needs something, he knows that he can just tell me and I'll stop what I'm doing. Because nothing is more important than each other."

“If anything happens...”

That relationship of care and support proved vital earlier this year, when Gotti experienced an unexpected health crisis.

“I was six months pregnant and I had to have my appendix removed,” she says. “I was in the hospital for like five days.

Sharing this, Gotti speaks in a surprisingly casual tone, clearly accustomed to telling the high-stakes story to worried family and friends.

“It actually happened on my birthday,” she explains. “I literally thought I was going to die. I was going through those emotions. There are so many risks with major surgery, but the risk of leaving it in was way worse.”

Facing uncertainty, Gotti found herself making decisions not only about her own health, but her entire family.

“I was thinking about my two babies at home, writing down all of my passwords and banking information for my husband,” she recalls. “Like ‘If anything happens, take all this money and do this, this and this. It was so weird.”

Luckily, Gotti’s surgery went well, but the experience was eye-opening for her. It partially inspired a new project she has decided to take on, in addition to her busy life as a mom, wife and prolific adult performer.

“I’m writing a book,” Gotti reveals. “About my journey through motherhood.”

Set to publish through Amazon later this year, the book will dive into each of Gotti’s pregnancies, exploring her psychological and physical journeys throughout.

“It’s kind of like a journal,” she explains, adding that this third baby will also be her last. For Gotti, a family of five is just right.

“After that, you start pushing it,” she laughs. “I’m not driving a minivan!” X3

Jasmine Sherni Takes the Spotlight in Brazzers Release

Jasmine Sherni stars in the two-part Brazzers scene titled "TroubleMakerzz."

The reality series-themed scenes feature performers participating in a variety of contests.

"Part one features Sherni, Baby Gemini, Isiah Maxwell, and Mazee competing to win a suitcase of cash and the title of TroubleMakerzz," said a rep. "They are on a pleasure treasure hunt; the challenge is to find the most sex toys, but the game goes awry when the contestants perv out."

"Part two of 'TroubleMakerzz' brings in new castmates Abigaiil Morris and Scott Nails," the rep added. "Jasmine and ringer contestants Daniel and Kaiia come back, and they play a game where the two competitors with the most matching answers win a date."

Sherni enthused about the scenes.

"This reality series was fun to film," she said. "There was acting, comedy, and lots of hot sex, which is an incredible combo. All my co-stars were amazing; both scenes were entertaining, funny, and sexy. I wish someone would do a real reality show like this. I'd love to watch something like this every week."

"TroubleMakerzz" is streaming on Brazzers.

Jane Wilde, Lily LaBeau Star in Latest From New Sensations

Jane Wilde and Lily LaBeau star in the latest release from New Sensations, directed by Paul Woodcrest. The scene opens on stepsisters Wilde and LaBeau getting closer and closer to each other.

"The chemistry that had been building finally ignites, and neither of them can resist any longer," the synopsis reveals. "With passion that feels both reckless and inevitable, Jane and Lily give in to the desires they've been hiding — unlocking a sexual connection that's as electric as it is taboo."

LaBeau enthused about her co-star.

"I was so excited to do a scene with Jane; I love her sensuality and sexual energy," she said. "When we started kissing, the sexual tension was so hot, the sex progressed so naturally, and we both came hard multiple times. I don't think either of us wanted it to end."

The scene is streaming on NewSensations.

Elegant Angel, Adam & Eve Collab on New Western 'Buckle Bunnies'

Elegant Angel has partnered with Adam & Eve Pictures to release the western feature "Buckle Bunnies," directed by Andre Madness.

The title features Kelly Caprice, Gigi Dior, Yaya Gingersnatch, Lilly Jade, Richard Glaze, Ryan McLane, and Jason Sarcinell.

"In the heart of the American West, 'Buckle Bunnies' whisks you away into a fun and sexy adventure that follows four spirited young women — Gigi, Kelly, Yaya, and Lilly — as they set their sights on winning over the most coveted rodeo champions," the synopsis reveals. "With their charm, wit, and sex appeal, these lively ladies dive headfirst into a whirlwind of flirtation and romantic escapades, navigating the thrilling world of rodeo competition and the complexities of love."

Madness enthused about the title.

"Fans are going to thoroughly enjoy the stellar performances by our talented cast," he said. "Gigi Dior delivers magnetic charisma; Lilly Jade brings incredible sexual energy; Yaya Gingersnatch constantly brings the heat to the scene; and Kelly Caprice's presence genuinely elevates every moment of her performance. Their combined talent and chemistry turned 'Buckle Bunnies' into a standout project fans won't want to miss."

Added Dior, "Working with Andre Madness for 'Buckle Bunnies' was an incredible experience. I like to be silly and have fun on set, and dressing up in boots, Daisy Dukes, and a cowgirl hat made for a light and freeing environment. I was able to have fun and let my personality shine through."

"Buckle Bunnies" is streaming on ElegantAngel and AdamEvePlus.

Lily Phillips Stars in Latest Release From Ricky's Room

Lily Phillips stars in the latest release from Ricky's Room, titled "Painting the Lily."

"I don't think Lily Phillips understands just how incredibly beautiful she is, or how much fun," enthused co-star and site honcho Ricky Johnson. "She is so charming and just so real, and those giggles of hers, as we started playing, had me going. I could tell she was genuinely enjoying herself, and so was I. So much so that I made a painting on her amazing ass and then signed my name on it."

Added Phillips, "It was amazing. I definitely can understand why he's one of the greats."

"Painting the Lily" is streaming on RickysRoom.

Play

Dorcel

Once upon a time, video stores rented out physical media to customers for home entertainment. There are many adult movie fans who weren't around during this decades-gone era. Thankfully, Dorcel's "Play" takes us back to the days of VHS tapes in the 1990s, when video rental stores hadn't yet gone the way of the dinosaurs. Nicole Kitt and Gal Ritchie play two friends working the counter at one of these storied establishments. Playing into the nostalgic setting, this movie delivers memorable characters with quotable quips. Director Ricky Greenwood tackles yet another film genre to porn-ify: the '90s-era buddy comedy. "Play" moves like a Kevin Smith flick as it titillates in more ways than one.

Conan's Video Club sets the stage for a zany batch of customers who waltz through the door. The movie opens with "Weird Larry," played by Tommy Pistol, already waiting outside as Nicole and Gal unlock the shop. He immediately darts to the Adults Only section, gleefully yelling "Porn!" as he disappears into the back — a routine both clerks are all too familiar with, responding with dismissive sighs. Fortunately for them, the sexual hijinks kick in quickly. Gal can't stop thinking about sex and constantly reminds her co-worker of this. The first sex scene sizzles into view thanks to Gal's recollection of a past threesome. The flashback features Dan Damage and Isiah Maxwell spit-roasting Gal Ritchie on the video store counter. Nicole grimaces at the thought as her perverted friend devilishly recalls the fling.

Everyone seems to meet their match at Conan's Video Club — even Larry gets some action in the porn section. Queenie Sateen drops in looking for smut, dressed only in a trench coat. She also happens to be a connoisseur, mimicking Larry's jog to the back of the store and rejoicing at the sight of all the porn. This leads to the second threesome scene — my favorite in the movie — as Gal joins the party in the porn room. When she steps in, Queenie Sateen is already sucking off Tommy. The gooner fantasy continues as the three of them — Queenie, Tommy, and Gal — initiate sex acts while surrounded by porno tapes.

The set pieces accurately depict the video stores of yore, from movie posters to stacks of tapes. Ryan Driller plays the boss and appears in a hot scene with Chanel Camryn, who portrays a potential employee being interviewed in the back office. Gal and Nicole can only guess what goes on back there — likely a future co-worker getting banged on the boss's desk while they hold down the front counter.

The DP scene features Liz Jordan with Roman Todd and Oliver Davis, playing horny customers who wander to the back of the store. They leave the aisles of videotapes after some groping and heavy petting. It's the shortest sex scene in the movie, but they still manage to fit in cowgirl, reverse cowgirl, and double penetration. Even through the gloomy lighting, the heat of the sex still burns through.

Eventually, Nicole gets to bang her crush — a customer played by Nathan Bronson. Gal encourages this by leaving them alone and urging Nicole to close up shop without her. Nicole is initially hesitant, but one look at Nathan has her giving in to her desires. They have sex in the middle of the store, with Nicole Kitt riding Nathan in cowgirl and taking his athletic thrusts in standing doggy style.

The reasonable runtime ensures that "Play" doesn't drag — a great way to discourage fast-forwarding. Sticking around rewards viewers with fun bursts of dialogue before getting straight to the professional sex from these top-tier performers. Tommy Pistol and Ryan Driller are still at the top of their game, nailing their acting roles and the hottest women in the biz. Greenwood delivers great camera angles during penetration, cementing "Play" as not only a raunchy comedy but a solid piece of porn.

Couture

Dorcel

Women are plenty beautiful on their own, but when they adorn themselves in the most exquisite accouterments of couture, their aura transcends the limitations of simple sensuality. They become the things that dreams and fantasies are made of.

Herve Bodilis directs "Couture," a beautiful film about the enduring appeal of the relationship the female form has with high fashion. The sex appeal that comes with purposeful clothing is undeniable, and Bodilis captures the heat and desire of French fashion perfectly in this stylish vignette.

Christy White, James Duval:

The gorgeous Christy White is up first, roaming the glittering streets in a striking leather pea coat with indulgent fur cuffs and collars. The gold chain hanging from her neck is a symbol of her power, reflecting the strength of her hold on any man she fancies. Tonight, James Duval is her target, and he stands helpless against her tidal wave of passion. She presses him to the wall and uses her lipstick to write a command on his chest, marking him as her property. Her face sparkles as she gazes up at him with his cock in her mouth, her hunger held carefully in check as he trembles from anticipation. She lets him fondle her stockinged feet (a foreshadowing of what's to come) before opening her legs so he can show her just how powerful her hold over him is. And when James is finally ready to unload his seed, Christy tells him exactly where she wants it.

Clara Mia, Ricky Rascal:

Clara Mia stuns in her sheer bodysuit and lace stockings, but it's her open jacket, belted skirt, and exquisite heels that put her over the top. No one could resist such a vision, and Ricky Rascal is no different. He fingers Clara desperately on a table as he nuzzles her neck with his lips. She teases him with her mouth before accepting his cock deep down her throat, and she spreads her legs wide so he can finger her in the process. And once he's finished her, she peels her stocking off and wraps it around his throbbing dick, stroking him to release.

Kelly Collins, Jimmy Bud:

An empty parking garage is nothing more than a hunting ground for Kelly Collins. She shines in her chic dress, the gold belt, black jacket, and sparkling earrings acting as perfect accessories. Underneath, she boasts vibrant panties adorned with red flowers and a matching bra. When Kelly barges into the flat, she finds a mesmerized Jimmy Bud waiting for her — and she wastes little time sinking her teeth into him. There's lots of foot play to start before Bud folds Kelly in half and buries himself deep inside her.

Clemence Audiard, Kristof Cale:

Just call Clemence Audiard a lady of the night because she is wholly on the prowl. Her patent leather black heels and matching overindulgent fur coat compliment her fiery red hair perfectly, and her piercing blue eyes are those of a predator. Tonight, she's stalking Kristof Cale, and nothing will keep her from being satisfied. Cale does his best to satiate her hunger, bending her over and plowing her from behind with measured, deliberate strokes. Clemence is an absolute vision, and it's all Kristof can do to hold himself from finishing the moment he enters her sweet pussy. She rubs her clit nonstop with her gloved hand, working herself into a frenzy as Kristof buries his cock deep inside her.

Diana Lawrence, Kristof Cale:

Diana Lawrence in a stunning red evening gown complete with a gaudy gold chain necklace is a libido-stirring sight. She captures Kristof's attention instantly, and when she takes him back to her flat, the well-seasoned stud wastes no time getting down to business. Leaving Diana's dress on for a majority of the scene lends to the erotic tone as her elegant dress is pushed aside to reveal her tasty treat. The side spoon is wonderful, and Diana looks radiant and sexy when Kristof starts pounding her from behind.

Drip 5

Slayed

"Drip 5" features scenes from Vixen's lesbian-centric studio, Slayed, helmed by veteran Vixen director KGB and the dynamic duo of Jia Lissa and Julia Grandi.

XxLayna Marie, Britt Blair:

XxLayna Marie and Britt Blair love a good spa day. The glistening sweat beading upon their naked bodies as they lounge in the sauna, the cool waters of the outdoor pool afterwards — it's just what the doctor ordered after a long week at work. And when these two lovely ladies let their hair down around each other, sparks are sure to fly.

XxLayna and Britt are quite the treat. They both boast svelte frames that curve and coil around one another, and both have a healthy appetite for pussy. They take turns fingering and burying their faces in each other's muffs, each causing the other to quiver with orgasm after orgasm. The 69 they share is plenty steamy, but they really explode when they scissor each other.

Kendra Sunderland, Gizelle Blanco:

Carwash babes is an enduring fantasy the world over, and Kendra Sunderland and Gizelle Blanco are here to remind everyone exactly why. These two bombshells show off their ample assets under the splash of a water hose and soapy bubbles, all while outshining the snazzy sports car behind them. When Gizelle and Kendra settle down in their luxurious den, the pent-up sexual tension from their sexy carwash boils over. Gizelle fingers and licks Kendra into oblivion while fondling her massive tits.

Skye Blue, Cherry Kiss:

A soaking rainstorm forces Cherry Kiss and Skye Blue to take shelter in a phone booth, the restrictive nature of the cramped booth forcing their bodies into each other. It only takes moments for the two ladies to turn their attempt to find shelter into an opportunity to grope and paw at each other. And once that Pandora's Box is opened, there's nothing left but to succumb to their lustful temptations.

Skye and Cherry are two of my favorite performers, so seeing them paired together is a dream come true. This scene is a fireball of desire from start to finish, with both ladies ravaging each other hungrily. Skye (my goodness, I love her hair!) practically inhales Cherry's pussy as the Serbian sexpot folds her legs around her head. They scissor each other into oblivion, with Cherry grinding her cunt against Skye's as if she were fucking her with a cock. She also smothers her face with Skye's ass, shoving her tongue deep into the blonde bombshell's hole while plunging finger after finger into her wet pussy. Skye nearly expires from the intensity of it all.

Jia Lissa, Scarlett Jones:

This is the only scene on "Drip 5" not directed by KGB. Instead, it's helmed by the dynamite team of Jia Lissa and Julia Grandi. Jia's boyfriend tosses her out of the car on the side of the road after a huge fight, leaving the gorgeous redhead walking aimlessly. Luckily for her, Scarlett Jones is driving by and pulls over to help her. Scarlett is watching a friend's house, and she invites Jia to join her. The two strangers soon become fast friends, but there's something else brewing between them. Jia can feel the electricity whenever they're in the room together. She can sense the growing sexual tension between them every time their hands brush against one another. And one day, Jia just decides to "go for it."

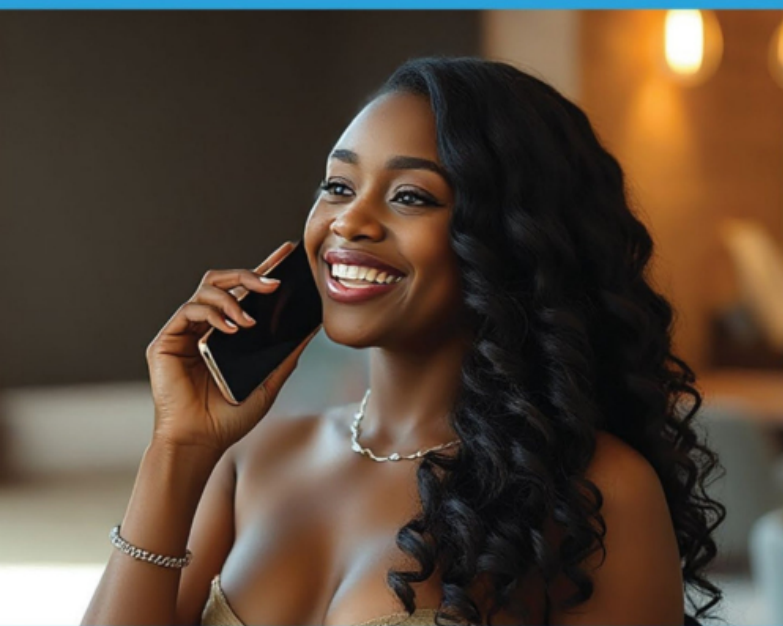

Woohoo! Jia is one of the sexiest women working in the industry today, and every time I see her name on a cast list, I know I'm in for a treat. She's every bit as sensual and erotic as you would expect in this scene, and Scarlett matches her tongue-for-tongue. Jia gives Scarlett a fantastic rimming while rubbing her clit, and Scarlett returns the favor while sandwiching her face between Jia's sculpted cheeks. The icing on top is watching Scarlett use a single finger to finger Jia's G-spot into oblivion.

Hard Bodies 6

Elegant Angel

The alluring cover photo of Vanna Bardot alone was enough to make me devour this Elegant Angel gonzo, with the full contents — including all the other three featured hard-bodied, lovely, lusty maidens — being a pleasure to view from start to finish.

And we, indeed, start with Vanna, who, as usual, does not disappoint. Vanna gets all sweaty in an empty gym — as do all of the females in “Hard Bodies 6” — and later gets dripping wet with the help of her respective male performer, Zac Wild, who’s more than willing to assist her with a good, hearty workout on the sofa. And let’s admit it: Vanna is a legend, and she just keeps getting better and better-looking with each successive movie. The sweat she produces here (although it might be oil, and that’s fine) makes her body look all the more exquisite. That pretty face, those full lips, those perfect tits, that succulent ass — mama mia, what a ridiculously yummy babe! The highlights include Zac fucking Vanna missionary and reverse-cowgirl, during which he hoists her killer bod off the ground, as well as cowgirl and doggie, during which her killer, round, exquisite butt jiggles oh so wonderfully for us. Zac eventually gives Vanna a semi-cream pie while pounding her missionary, where we get to revel in her pert nipples and gorgeous face, including that gleaming smile.

Nicole Kitt and Briana Moon are also fun to watch “working out” with their separate studs. Nicole is teamed up with Charles Dera, giving him an extra sloppy blowjob and offering her mouth up for some distinct face-fucking. My favorite Nicole position is missionary, where she offers some dynamite eye contact before it morphs into spoon and Charles spurts all over her slight bush. And Briana (also known as Briana Bandera) has an booty that just won’t stop, here getting ravished — after her own workout in the gym — by lucky Dan Damage. And I love Ms. Moon’s sexy Russian accent. So seductive! She loves shaking that big booty and getting it slapped big time. She chokes impressively on Dan-dick, and look at her butt cheeks hypnotically jiggle during cowgirl. Mercy! Doggie, naturally, is fab with that delightfully chunky butt brilliantly swaying the harder he pumps, with Damage climaxing during a sleepy session of missionary; big-boobed, tight-bodied, lush-assed Moon looks ever so hornily at the camera as Dan blasts all over her ripped tummy. Yeah! There’s a great smile on Moon, too, when her body is coated in cum.

I don’t know where I’ve been, but this is the first time I’ve seen our other Brianna: cute, delectable, limber (!) little Brianna Arson, doing some amazing stretch exercises before her pussy and mouth get thoroughly stretched out care of Victor Ray’s swollen prick. And what an ass on Ms. Arson! It’s one of the best in the biz, and that’s saying a lot. Such a taut body, which is brilliantly contrasted with that round and juicy backside! Arson likes it rough, too; she’s such a sweet submissive. Arson digs Victor choking her as he slams her doggie, which is her best position next to cowgirl; both stances really highlight that phenomenal butt. I also love her expressions of pleasure and pain throughout. And check out how Victor face-fucks her. Tons of saliva everywhere! Arson likes to suck balls, too. And what a truly darling face, which is a wonder to watch while she inhales cock to the bone and takes a good, copious facial. This little lady absolutely rocks. I’m a fan!

Actually, all of the girls rock in “Hard Bodies 6.” Recommended!

Vibes 11

Vixen

"Vibes 11 features scenes by longtime Vixen directors Laurent Sky and Julia Grandi.

Liz Jordan, Hazel Moore, Christian Clay:

Liz Jordan wants to reward her man Christian Clay for his years of loyalty and honor with a sexy threesome with her friend Hazel Moore, a woman Liz knows he's lusted after for a long time even though he'd never cheat. A romantic evening surprise turns into the ultimate tease when Liz and Hazel retreat to the bedroom clad in sexy lingerie and lock Christian out. But the next morning, his wildest fantasy finally comes true as the two friends join him in bed.

Hazel is one of the sexiest performers working today, and pairing her with Liz and Christian is one of the smartest things director Sky has ever done. Both ladies look absolutely incredible draped all over Christian's muscled frame, and the smack of their pouty lips on his body is sexual music to the libido's ears. Goodness gracious, watching Liz's pussy get pounded in cowgirl as Hazel's massive tits ride on her back is a delicious sight, as is the way Christian spreads Liz's ass with his massive hands! Wonderful stuff.

Nicole Kitt, Alberto Blanco:

What an incredible body Nicole Kitt has! She teases the camera early on in sexy lingerie before monologuing an introduction to a stunning vocal performance for a captive audience. It smacks of the Roaring '20s, when women captured the imaginations of bar patrons as they waxed poetic on small, intimate stages. Tonight, Nicole's sound mixer Alberto Blanco will learn exactly who Nicole has been singing for all this time.

Like a good employee, Alberto sets to work making sure his boss has everything she needs, which includes a thorough clitoral tongue-lashing. Nicole returns the favor before easing herself onto Alberto's rod for a raunchy ride. Her hips swivel like a snake, and it's all Alberto can do to hang on for dear life. She also shows off her stellar backside when she bends over and lets Alberto hammer her from behind. This is yet another winning scene from Grandi.

Polly Yangs, Matthew Meier:

A spirited night at a cabana leads to bartender Polly Yangs eyeing sexy (but timid) party-goer Matthew Meier. Her eye is on him all night, but he never makes a move. The next day, Matthew's mom (Grandi herself) leaves him home alone while she goes shopping. The cleaning lady comes by, and it turns out to be Polly.

I'd never seen Polly before this scene, but wow, is she sexy: perky tits, classic hair, pouty lips, and a curved frame that comes right off the pages of a glamour magazine! Her soft voice is a seductive sexual soundtrack, and her taut frame is the stuff that dreams are made of. Dear directors, please cast Polly as much as possible.

Winnafred Flurry, Maximo Garcia:

Maximo Garcia goes out each night and fights for his life, his honor, and his paycheck in the ring. Each night, he comes home to his loving girlfriend Winnafred Flurry, who is always ready to take care of him. One night, he comes home in particularly rough shape, and Winnafred is forced to dress his wounds. But when she tries to have sex with him, his weariness simply won't allow him to accept her advances. Luckily for Maximo, Winnafred is patient and willing to wait until just the right time.

After stuffing Maximo's massive cock down her throat, Winnafred lays back and lets her beefy beau have his way with her. She spreads her legs wide and lets Maximo fold her up so he can ram her hard and deep, then flops over obediently so he can take her from behind while spanking her glistening ass. The more Winnafred submits to him, the harder Maximo ravages her body, thrusting the remaining fury from his boxing match into her willing sex like a jackhammer. It's intense and satisfying.

Naughty Neighbors

New Sensations

What an impressive roster of female talent — Violet Myers, Valentina Nappi, Anna Claire Clouds, and Connie Perignon — in the saucy “Naughty Neighbors” from New Sensations and director Paul Woodcrest! High points go to all four fabulously fornicating foxes.

The always-amiable Isiah Maxwell plays a gent whose shower won’t work, and he asks his next-door neighbor — played by buxom, all-around luscious brunette Violet Myers — if he can use hers. Though Violet is, at first, upset that Isiah hasn’t been the most attentive of neighbors, she lets him in — and in more ways than one! Sure enough, Violet spies on Isiah while he’s about to jump into the shower, and when he pleasantly catches her at it, a cute interchange ensues. Apparently, their families are having some kind of unexplained feud, but Violet really likes him — and vice versa, with the two consummating the friendship. Isiah fucks her huge, all-natural pillows, then eats her pussy, afterwards bending her over and doing her doggie against the bathroom sink. But Violet looks even better during missionary upon the nearby bed, her tits fully flowing, as well as during spoon. And watch Violet’s big butt cheeks billow during cowgirl and a marvy return to doggie. “Spray my fuckin’ tits with all that cum,” she eventually pants. And good neighbor Isiah does just that. Superb!

Gorgeous, juicy Italian brunette Valentina Nappi, one of my all-time favorite porn stars, plays a homeowner who, eventually, shows off her fab figure and intense sexuality to Milan Ponjevic. His character is in the States for a few years on a student visa, renting out Valentina’s guest house; the two of them eventually hook up big league. Not only is Valentina pretty, but she has a killer all-natural body, with boobs just the right size and a totally succulent butt. Love her! And Valentina is a magnificent cocksucker, getting Milan-meat all shiny, wet, and foamy; our girl slowly, gradually goes to the base. Cowgirl à la Nappi is brilliant, and her small but bigish butt brilliantly billows. There’s excellent squatting action, too. Doggie is extraordinary, of course, with such a world-class ass. Valentina even rims Milan (for a long time!) while stroking him, afterwards sucking his balls; eventually, she lets Milan dick-dunk her gullet as her head hangs upon the edge of the bed. But she just can’t keep away from his butt, rimming him again. Such a superlative slut! Spoon totally kicks ass, while I love her sleepy eyes during missionary, before she jerks Milan off right into her face. Valentina is the best!

Anna Claire Clouds’ neighbor, played by G.I. Joey, is a masseur who goes to Anna’s home and gives her a “private session” as a “gift” for the holiday season. And man, does she get face-fucked! With that pretty mug and her deep hankering for hose, Anna can’t miss. Ms. Clouds works her pussy well during cowgirl, reverse-cowgirl, doggie and (sideways!) spoon, before we get an encore with doggie and Joey spews goo all over her fine ass.

And all-around voluptuous Connie Perignon is the perfect way to end this dynamite title, inviting her new neighbor, played by the returning Milan, over for more than just cocktails. “Nothing turns me on more than a complete stranger getting a proper welcome,” she tells us in her naughty narrative. What an ever-flowing butt she has, too! Irresistible! She’s also a phenomenal dick gagger, producing a truckload of saliva. All positions are grand with succulent Connie, but my faves are ass-shaking cowgirl (including some hellacious squats) and doggie. And, yes, Connie also rims lucky Milan, who eventually jerks off upon her stunningly exotic face.

All four of these starlets perform swimmingly in this quintet of fun, bubbly tales. But the brunettes really do take the cake, and Valentina and Connie are especially cock-bursting in their separate searing scenes. Kudos to director Woodcrest!

Willow's Room

Ricky's Room

Originally from Tennessee, curvy and cute Willow Ryder started in the adult business back in 2022 and has chalked up an amazing 262 titles — occasionally doing a bit of anal, as she does here in her own Ricky's Room showcase. And "Willow's Room" includes some stellar assistance from Baby Gemini, Anna Claire Clouds, and Ameena Green.

We start simple but sweet, with director/performer Ricky Johnson happily taking on Willow — who's as pretty and luscious as ever. The two passionately suck and fuck upon a sofa amidst a semi-darkened environment, making things all the more intimate. And Willow eventually gives up her booty hole. After riding him well during cowgirl-vadge (look at that ass-jelly shake!), Willow bends over — her prominent ass all greased up — and rocks her pussy around his raging hard-on for a bit, before they switch to missionary. In a return to doggie, however, Willow offers up her rectum, which is an absolute movie highlight, especially with Willow shaking her moneymaker so crazily. Ricky eventually gives her none other than (pow!) an anal cream pie. Yes! And, for the record, Willow is also one superb deepthroater.

We next get none other than a searing orgy, with tasty Ms. Ryder being joined by Gemini and Anna, along with Ricky and two other dudes. There are tons of steamy action to digest here. And though Willow is amazing, as is Anna, I found myself frequently watching the ever-juicy Gemini. Again, there are lots of great moments here, including Ricky slamming Anna hard doggie style; Johnson hoisting Willow off the ground and banging her missionary in mid-air; Anna riding one of the guys cowgirl with her ass cheeks wobbling every which way; one of the guys banging Anna doggie while she gobbles another's cock; and, of course, Gemini getting doggie here and there, with her own amazing butt cakes undulating all over the place. Gemini is also one superlative dick sucker, going way deep and way wet. I also liked seeing her large, sloppy tits flop around as Ricky slams her cowgirl. Willow eventually gets one guy off orally, while Anna gets Ricky off via doggie, as she does the third stud. Ricky splooges his nut all over Willow's beaming face.

Gorgeous Ameena is teamed up with Willow and Ricky, this time upon a yellow-velvet-colored bed, making for an atomic threesome. I like how Ameena's eyes cross as Willow eats her pussy and Ricky sucks her boobies. Ameena and Willow get lots of saliva all over Ricky's prick as they separately inhale his love pump. Cowgirl and doggie with Willow are as incredible as ever, particularly with that big ass and those pert titties. And Willow licking Ameena's clit as Johnson fucks Ameena missionary is way horny. It's also grand when he fucks each girl standing doggie in tandem. Look at how marvelously both ladies return to sucking his cock, with Willow really choking on it, before they both simultaneously jerk him to explosion; Willow glutinously eats the majority of the cum. And I just love the ladies' bodies getting all wet and shiny from sweat. Hot stuff!

We end with bang — a gangbang, that is — as Willow gets her mouth and vagina insanely invaded by five dicks. Wow! Look at how she deep-throats the guys during her blowbang. Fantastic! I love it, too, when she's doggied by different dicks as she sucks the other cocks. She's excellent in the missionary and cowgirl departments, too, all leading to each guy cocooning her delightful face with pop after pop of pud paste. "Make me a dirty little bitch," she tells them. They do!

If you're a fan of Willow Ryder — or just discovering her — then you definitely don't wanna miss this phenomenal spotlight of a truly scrumptious, thoroughly salacious porn specimen. In "Willow's Room," Ms. Ryder rocks the people's cock.

MILFS Abroad

MILFY

What a treat! "MILFS Abroad" boasts a quartet of foreign-filmed scenes directed by the extraordinarily talented Julia Grandi, and that means great settings, terrific videography, fun storylines, and beautiful, horny women — in this case, one delicious MILF after another.

In "Ski Instructor," blonde babe-a-roo Brandi Love is in the eponymous role, looking fantastic in a red, full-body, snug ski suit. Mathew Meier, one of her stud-ents, suffers a slight fall on the slopes — and the crazily curvy Ms. Love nurses lucky Matt back to health in her cozy ski pad. Aside from possessing a prominent pair of gunners, one steamy pussy, and a killer ass, Love is also quite the pretty thing. Naturally, there's a picturesque backdrop (a Grandi trademark), and in this case, it's a snow-laden landscape with dreamy trees somewhere in Europe. I love how well bawdy Brandi allows herself to get face-fucked, while also getting her long hair slightly pulled. That meaty butt looks phenomenal in the spoon position; ditto for doggie. And let's not forget cowgirl.

"Gift Horse" features one of my all-time favorite MILFs: Texas Patti. The brunette maneater is featured with her on-screen hubby, their stepdaughter, and the latter's boyfriend (played by Alberto Blanco), all of them sporting thick accents while chatting among themselves at a summer resort. Even though they speak English, the actors are equipped with subtitles, since their accents are so marvelously thick (it's like a Paul Morrissey movie from the 1970s). And that makes the scene all the more fun and unique. Patti's own slight accent (she was born in Germany) comes out during this ultra-erotic episode; our girl promptly seduces Alberto when everyone else is asleep early in the morning. She first gives him a nasty BJ on one of the resort's balconies, with the lush, tropical hotel grounds in the background (thank you, Miss Grandi!). It's a slow, molten, groaning BJ. Dynamite! One of the best in the movie! They finally get down upon a bed on the same large balcony, and Patti mesmerizingly talks dirty throughout. "Yeah, touch my titties.... Squeeze them," she says — and then, "Rub your fucking cock over my clit.... feels so good." Also: "Your hard cock.... in my pussy.... go slowly.... do you feel my pussy pumping?" So sexy! And that's just during spoon. Then, it's naughty reverse-cowgirl, brilliant cowgirl ("Slap my ass," she begs Blanco, while she shakes her magnificent money-maker), another fantastic blowjob, some outstanding doggie, joyous face-fucking, wild missionary (her big boobs gyrate as Patti moans, "Fill that fucking pussy up"); and a vadge cream pie that finds the spunk blasting half in/half out of her ever-moist twat. And, naturally, fabulously filthy Patti simply must devour a majority of the warm jizz. Love her!

"Private Tour" stars slinky but similarly curvy and cute Serenity Cox (love the short brown hair!), who, care of a lucky hotel worker (the returning Blanco), gets a personal tour of the beautiful, exotic hotel grounds. Serenity and Alberto end up by poolside (with no one around), where they get naked and frisky. Ms. Cox gives a well-focused blowjob, her nice, little tits homily hanging down. Then, with her tantalizingly taut bod in full view, it's missionary, reverse-cowgirl, cowgirl (my fave with that wet, shiny, tight ass), and doggie.

"It Takes Two" opens with Serenity and her cuckolded husband, who finds out that she's just been cream-pied — and thus leaves her at the hotel, where she hooks up with a male bartender, Jason Luv, and another female patron, Malena Nazionale (one of my favorite Italian porn starlets). Both Serenity and Malena take Jason to one of their rooms for some fun, fun, fun. The highlights include Malena really riding Luv's love stick via cowgirl; standing mish with Malena as Jason lifts her off the ground; doggie with big-assed/groaning Malena; and deep missionary with writhing Serenity. Superb!

Each of these MILFs performs magnificently, though preciously perverted Patti really does take the cake. "MILFS Abroad" is not-to-be-missed porn.
